

Campus Carry – Frequently Asked Questions

1) What is Campus Carry?

- In 2015, Governor Greg Abbott signed into law Senate Bill 11 – Campus Carry. It allows licensed individuals to carry a concealed firearm (pistol) on public college and university campuses.

2) Who can get a license to carry?

- The License to Carry (formerly Concealed Handgun License) may be obtained from anyone 21 years of age or older provided they pass a state approved course on the laws and use of force as well as a marksmanship test and a background check. The Texas Department of Public Safety issues the license. There are limitations based on one's criminal record as to who qualifies for the license.

3) I keep hearing about open carry, what is it and how does it affect Campus Carry?

- Open Carry is a separate bill (House Bill 910) that was signed into law the same year as Campus Carry. They are two completely different things. Open carry is not allowed on campus.

4) Can Howard College opt out of the Campus Carry program?

- No. Only private institutions may opt out of the program.

5) What about dual credit? Can we declare our campus off limits because of dual credit students?

- No. The presence of dual credit students or other minors does not allow a college to opt out of the program if they are a state funded institution.

6) What about classrooms that have dual credit students?

- No. The only exception to this rule would be a class that is essentially a K-12 only class taught on our campus – an example would be Gifted and Talented testing.

7) What areas can be off limits then?

- Howard College has put together a committee to formulate policy for presentation to the Board of Trustees via Dr. Sparks. The committee, in accordance with guidance from the Texas Attorney General and the Texas Association of Community Colleges will determine what areas of campus will be off limits. One example of an off limits location would be Howard Cottage, due to the facility's purpose as a day care, per Texas statutes.

8) What about my classroom or office?

- The attorney general has already ruled that in general classrooms may not be designated off limits. There may be certain exceptions taken into consideration (classrooms with flammable materials for example). Offices typically follow the same rules. Most offices cannot be off limits, with certain exceptions possible, as determined by the college.

9) What if I work and hold my classes at St. Johns or another hospital?

- Per state law, all hospitals are off limits to all license to carry individuals, this includes conceal carry and open carry, regardless of the college's presence at the hospital in question.

10) Does this mean that our dental program on Big Spring is off limits?

- No, Big Spring campus is not considered a hospital. The dental treatment area is therefore not off limits.

11) What about sporting events on campus?

- According to Texas statute Sec. 46.035 license holders may not carry a weapon on the premises where a high school, collegiate, or professional sporting event or interscholastic event is taking place.

12) How will I know if one or more of my students is carrying a weapon?

- Since campus carry is concealed carry only, you realistically should not see any weapons nor be aware of who is carrying.

13) Can I ask my students who is carrying?

- No. The attorney general has ruled that colleges, their staff and faculty may not ask individuals if they are carrying on campus. Only licensed police officers may do so, and only then during the performance of their duties.

14) What do I do if I see a student openly carrying on campus?

- Contact the extra duty officer on duty if there is one or an administrator – most likely the student is mistakenly open carrying.

15) What if I can see a student's weapon under his jacket?

- Contact the extra duty officer on duty if there is one or an administrator – most likely, the student is inadvertently revealing his conceal carry weapon.

16) What about students living in the dorms?

- Licensed students who live in the dorms are allowed to have a weapon per the attorney general. Howard College will publish a policy on the safe storage of those firearms for those dorm residents.
